Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. —2 Cor. 5:17

One of the greatest challenges for men and women returning to society after incarceration, is putting their faith into practice. For many, the “new creature” seems to be an illusive animal to get a hold of. Although the truth is that old things have truly passed away, the process of that being evident in their lives can be a difficult task.

For many of our residents here at Kingdom Boundaries, living a “new creation life” in today’s culture can be daunting. Temptations of all kinds appealing to their old habits are everywhere—sometimes just literally across the street. The need for a safe place that evangelizes and disciples according to biblical principles, is a powerful tool that God uses to finish the work that He has started (Phil. 1:6).

There is a spiritual battle that goes on around us 24/7. Please continue to pray for the men here at KB to keep their focus on Jesus and their faithfulness to His Word. Also, please keep our vision of expanding this ministry in your prayers. This would include more rooms for men and the beginning of serving women in this ministry as well.

Again, many thoughts of gratitude concerning those who partner in this ministry and for others being led to do the same.

May God continue to bless and keep you,

Tim
